Beware of Fraudulent ICOs. ICOs are risky; some are scams, copycats, or ways to avoid necessary regulation designed to protect people. Unlike other ICOs built on theoretical and unproven business models, Red Ticket ICO is based upon integrating and transforming a successful business model and large existing market into the cryptocurrency community. While we cannot guarantee overnight success, we can promise our platform and movies will be produced, distributed, and marketed by knowledgeable movie industry experts adhering to the best principles of the cryptocurrency community.

Due to the popularity of ICOs and the relative anonymity of cryptocurrencies, it has sadly become common for fake/clone websites to appear online, or for people to impersonate an ICO company member to try to trick you out of your ETH. Please be vigilant and only ever send ETH to the addresses and contacts listed on our website. We will never list payment details on other websites or social media.
